Seniors Created Inspiring Image

Senior Officers:

President . . . . .	Sandi Jackson
Vice-President . . . . .	Keith Weinand
Secretary . . . . .	Kris Westerman
Treasurer . . . . .	Diane Kaschner

Senior Exchange Student, Urai Kornvith-ayasilp from Thailand, received a Bulova watch from the student body as a Christmas present. Pat Nigh presented her with the gift. Urai expressed her gratitude...

"Just Thank-you, Thank you very much for the marvelous Christmas present you gave me. I do appreciate your generosity. The watch is a great remembrance from all of you that I will never forget."

Bill Backhaus, high scorer for KHS, succeeded in making a free throw, adding another point to the score.

Seniors, Urai, Marie Butschlik, Mary Jane Bales, and Diane Kaschner studied senior announcements in the display case.

The daily trek to the grade school ended for Spanish students in January when the remodeling was completed and the new addition finished. Here John LaMarche and Mike Otten depart for 5th hour Spanish class, anticipating an invigorating walk in the November air.

Activities Of Seniors

Karen Hansen proudly displayed her chemistry project, completed after many hours of hard work.

The Costume Ball provided a chance for seniors, Jerry Marx and Diane Kaschner to reveal their ingenuity and creativity.

Mary Jane Bales was responsible for the account of each senior's high school activities recorded in the Senior Index.

Revealed Varied Talents And Interests

Keith Weinand and Sandi Jackson contributed time and talent to arranging pictures and copy on the "Smoke Signals" pages to prepare the paper for its final printing.

Paul Buczek and his partner demonstrated wrestling techniques before an all-school assembly.

Freshmen

Freshmen worked diligently on their Homecoming Float.

The mixer provided a chance for Freshmen to get acquainted.

Cafeteria eating was a new experience for Betty Butz.

Anne Edwards and Carol Nigh started the school day.

Freshmen learned the proper way to eat in school.... blindfolded.

Mr. Czoschke handed out tests to a well-prepared (?) class.

Sylvester Schools was one of the freshmen who found science exciting.

Freshman girls reviewed the day's assignments.

The Glow Of "Harbor Lights"

Under the direction of the committee chairmen and with the cooperation and diligent efforts of the class of '67, the Junior Prom of 1966, held on the evening of April 29, became a realized dream. The festivities took place in an old-fashioned fishing village by the sea. The village, pictured in a mural, consisted of The Seaside Inn, Harbor Bar, and Shrimp House. On the east side of the gym, a sea-scape, including shoreline bluffs and rolling surf was depicted. Couples danced to the music of Harry Rothman and his orchestra. The musicians played on board a ship which had just returned from a fishing trip and was anchored in the harbor in front of the stage. While master of ceremonies, Neil Hirsig introduced them, the court members entered on either side of the stage along wooden piers that led to the dance floor. As they walked to the throne, they passed a huge lighthouse on the rocks in the center of the gym. At its top a revolving light cast blue, yellow, and red shadows across the starry sky. The king, Bill Backhaus, crowned Lana Harbeck queen as she sat inside a beautiful pink and white opened clam shell. The shell was surrounded by a driftwood-strewn beach and behind it the rushing sea invited all to enjoy the grandeur of the dance.

Larry Coulter, '65 Prom King, crowned the new king, Bill Backhaus.

Spirit, Hope, And Tradition

Joined To Create 1966 Homecoming

U. Kornvithayasilp and D. Kudek, C. Rammer and J. Manthei, S. Scannell and T. Gundrum, J. Honeck and M. Tanck, S. Jackson and J. Marx, C. Heberer and M. Heise, J. Hiller and N. Erickson, K. Westerman and J. Korth.

Homecoming activities were altered somewhat this year with the traditional Thursday night festivities, the pep rally and the bonfire, being held on Friday evening and the parade immediately preceding the game on Saturday afternoon. Neal Hirsig was master of ceremonies at the Friday night program which consisted of a pep ski by the Pep Club (starring John Mannen and Chuck Theusch), a few words of encouragement from alumnus, Bob Miller, and coaches DeNamur and Harlow, and some rousing cheers led by the cheerleaders.

Students exhibited the results of their creativity and hard work in the parade Saturday afternoon. At 12:45 KHS paraded her floats down Main Street, led by her spirited band. The first prize in the class competition was awarded to the well-deserving freshmen for their "Totem Home a Victory." Twelve freshmen boys in football uniforms were delegated to pull the float which consisted of a realistic Indian village, complete with totem pole and victorious warriors dancing around a fire. FHA-FFA again took first place among the clubs with "Brewing a Victory."

The Indians' team favored its fans with a thrilling game that same afternoon as KHS scalped the Warhawks 18 to 13. Two of Kewaskum's players were outstanding as Bill Backhaus and Mark Heise scored the touchdowns, though this would have been impossible without the extraordinary skill and energy displayed by each player and Coach Harlow.

The team, however, was not alone in displaying skill and spirit. The band, under Mr. Brehm's direction, marched onto the field and formed a perfect "K". The dance that evening was equally successful. The seniors furnished an "Indian Sunset" setting to climax the homecoming weekend. A setting sun cast silhouettes of Indian warriors on the opposite wall. King Jerry crowned his Queen, Sandi Jackson, as she sat on a throne before a huge teepee. The homecoming weekend was one that seniors will long remember.

Hard work and ingenuity resulted in the freshmen class's prize-winning float, "Totem Home a Victory."

King Jerry and Queen Sandi enjoyed their reign over Homecoming Festivities.

The Sophomore's float, "We'll Tame the Warhawks", received honorable mention in class competition.

Homecoming's Varied Many Eager

"Brewing Victory" the FFA-FHA entry, won first place in club competition.

The Junior class worked to complete its float in time for the parade.

FBLA made its first contribution to a Homecoming parade.

Unfortunately, the Junior's float, "Indian Brand Name-Victory", was seriously damaged by the strong winds.

Events Involved Participants

FTA's float displayed the club's motto.

The 18-13 victory in the Homecoming game began with Mark Schaefer's kick-off.

The Senior float also suffered from the effects of the wind.

Tom Gundrum and Sue Scannell took part in the Grand March.

Debate And Forensics Emphasized

ROW 1: J. Zehren, L. Wulff, P. Kern, B. Butz, K. Hansen, J. Schoofs, C. Fickler, K. Secor, D. Weddig. ROW 2: D. Gruber, D. Kaschner, S. Waranius, E. Coulter, O. Berg, Miss Rossiter, K. Dorn. ROW 3: B. Butz, D. Miske, D. Backhaus, B. Kern, T. Behring, J. Skrentny, L. Kaschner.

Foreign Aid was more than just a government policy at KHS this year. For Kewaskum's 22 debaters, who studied both the pros and cons of the subject, it became an area of increasing interest and importance in our modern world. The proposition for this year read: Resolved that the Foreign Aid Policy of the United States should be limited to non-military assistance. The squad under the able direction of Miss Rossiter, debated this proposition at four tournaments this year. The first was a practice meet on December 3. December 17 was the date of the last practice tournament which was held at U.W.M. The district tournament was held on January 28 at Neenah. In addition, on October 15, thirteen members visited the U.W.M. Debate Institute where they gained valuable knowledge about both this year's proposition and debating techniques, such as refuting arguments, doing research, and defining terms. Through these tournaments and private practices and discussions the debaters gained valuable experience in learning how to think logically, and how to present these thoughts effectively. Debaters also became skilled in speaking and thinking "on their feet" in oral arguments.

Odin Berg studied his notes in an attempt to perfect his argument.

Debaters, after finding relevant material in periodicals, recorded this information on their note cards.

Interpretation, Expression And Public Speaking

"To expose students to choice writings and to perfect the art of public speaking" were this year's goals in Forensics. Through long hours of hard work, practice, and thought we feel that many of the students of KHS have reached the goal. Two new categories were added this year. The first was "Significant Speeches" which replaces "Non-original Oratory". In this contest the student selects an important speech from the past or present, quotes part of it and gives his own interpretation, tells what it meant to the original audience, and why it is significant to his audience. Play Acting was the second new contest, replacing Play Reading. This gave the students freedom of movement and better training for future acting projects.

KHS was represented at the regional forensics meet by the following students: Neal Hirsig and Emajean Coulter-Interpretative Reading of Prose; Les Kaschner, Marilyn Reindl, and Mike Smith-Play Acting; Myron Laubenstein and Diane Kaschner-Interpretative Reading of Poetry; Debbie Schlosser and Jane Honeck-Memorized Declamations; Peggy Kern and John Miller-Significant Speeches; Anne Edwards and Bonnie Kern-4-minute Speech; George Martin and Dan Gundrum-Original Oratory; Kathy Hansen and Henry Schacht-Public Address; Colleen Fickler and Odin Berg-Extemporaneous Speaking.

In addition to student interest and good resource material, the cooperation and help of excellent teachers was necessary in order for Forensics to be successful. In this respect Kewaskum has been very fortunate. The coaches for this year were Miss Sundquist, Mr. Shea, Mr. Rosenthal, Mrs. Rose, Miss Rossiter, and Miss Weeks. Because of the patience and endurance of these teachers and the enthusiasm of the participants, the students have greatly improved themselves in the field of public speaking.

Anne Edwards and Bonnie Kern remained in the category 4-Minute Speech but Peggy Kern decided to try Significant Speeches.

Les Kaschner portrayed Jim, the gentlemen caller, and Marilyn Reindl played Laura in their interpretation of THE GLASS MENAGERIE.

Jane Honeck, Debbie Schlosser, Julie Hron and Jean Schaefer, along with Don Miske competed in the field of Declamation.

Kathryn Hansen's address was based on traffic safety.

"The Romantics", A Quality

Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" was the subject of many conversations in the garden between Mark Schaefer and Lana Harbeck.

Mark Schaefer raised an arm to protect himself from his father's wrath.

The supposedly fatal blow was inflicted upon Neal Hirsig by Mark Schaefer.

Neal Hirsig discussed the business of abduction with Mike Smith.

Performance, Merited Praise

"Percinet leaped over the wall as lovely Sylvette was dragged away by the kidnappers. He drew his sword and started to duel with evil Strafout in a fight that could only end in one way." This was a scene from the play "The Romantics" by Edmond Rostand, upon which the hit musical, "Fantas-ticks," is based. It was also the scene which helped bring home an "A" rating from Germantown and gave the cast an opportunity to compete at Kaukauna. These honors go to Mr. Brehm, director of the one act contest play and the talented students who made up the cast. Those students were:

Mark Schaefer: Percinet--a lover of Shakespeare and Sylvette;

Lana Harbeck: Sylvette--a beautiful young girl in love with Percinet;

Mike Smith: Pasquinet--Sylvette's father, secretly arguing with Bergamin;

Doug Senn: Bergamin--Percinet's father, secretly quarreling with Pasquinet;

Neal Hirsig: Strafout--professional abductor with excellent taste in fake deaths.

The story is similar to Shakespeare's ROMEO AND JULIET. It is love at first sight when the two children meet at the garden wall separating their fathers' estates. They realize, however, that they must meet secretly for each has been forbidden contact with the other's family.

The two lovers meeting furtively do not realize that their fathers are not enemies at all but the best of friends. The fathers are only pretending to fight so they can bring their children together. They fear the lovers might not approve of their matchmaking.

At this time, however, the parents feel they must give the lovers a final push into matrimony. So they hire Strafout, the professional abductor, to settle matters. Together, they arrange a first class abduction with music and sedan chair, but no one must be harmed. "Do not worry," assures Strafout as he struts away.

That evening the lovers are to meet in the garden by the wall. Everyone is ready. Strafout leaps out, Sylvette screams, and Percinet leaps over the wall. The fight begins with the clash of swords. "On guard!" challenges Strafout. The fight continues, but Percinet drops his sword. Horrors, is this the end of our hero? No! Strafout attempts to leap over the wall just as Percinet gives him the fatal blow. "I am... mortally... wounded," gasps Strafout; falling on the wall. Out of the darkness come the fathers who have seen it all. Pasquinet gives Sylvette to Percinet for saving her life. The fathers forgive each other and as they leave the stage, Strafout sits up and hands Bergamin the bill. He should have been an actor.

This fine production was given several times to different groups of students and at the AFS Chili Supper. The presentation was a profitable enjoyable experience for the participants and for those that witnessed the performance.

Lana Harbeck and Mark Schaefer attempted to control the explosive outbursts of their fathers, Mike Smith and Doug Senn.

"Learning to Do, Doing to Learn, Earning to Live, and Living to Serve."

FFA Members Learned Of New

The F.F.A. is the national organization of, by, and for boys studying Vocational Agriculture. The freshman member is known as a "Greenhand". If after a year of agriculture study, he shows proficiency in his farming program, he is raised to the degree of Chapter Farmer. If he shows a high degree of aptitude in all fields of agriculture he may be raised to the degree of State Farmer by the state organization. Eventually a few of the top members may reach the height of American Farmer.

The Kewaskum Chapter of the F.F.A. was organized in 1951 and is now under the supervision of Mr. Roy Esser. Each year its members are divided into committees to set both a program of work and a budget to balance out with this program. Activities are planned throughout the year, which are of general interest to all the members. These included the Father-Son banquet which was held in spring. At this banquet the awards for achievement on chapter level were presented and the F.F.A. Chapter sponsored a program for the parents. Other activities were a Farm Safety contest among the local grade school children, Safety Demonstrations given at the local schools and at the County Fair, judging teams at the State Judging Contest at Madison, a summer softball league, and a Yearbook dance held in conjunction with the Annual Staff.

Several of the money making ventures of the F.F.A. were a pig-raising program in which several members participated and a corn harvest program in which the members brought in samples of ripe corn to be weighed and checked for moisture. The corn was sold to the highest bidder among the members. Thus, the combined efforts of the members helped to make this year a successful one.

Versatility Of Band Revealed

A highlight of the half-time ceremonies at the homecoming game was the band's huge K formation.

The Kewaskum high School Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Clyde Brehm, contained eighty-five members this year, each contributing to the outstanding performances heard by the band's audiences. These performances included marching at summer and homecoming parades, formation marching at the homecoming football game, and concerts given in December and February. The band also competed at Lomira in the Music Festival where a month earlier individual members showed their skill by playing in solo or ensemble competition.

The versatility of the band and its director was evident in the variety of members presented by the group. They interpreted musically everything from Bach to Broadway.

In Year's Accomplishments

A difficult piece such as "Fingal's Cave" by Mendelssohn would be followed by the soothing strains of a musical hit like "Shadow of Your Smile" or spirits might be enlightened with the zippy music of "Stars and Stripes Forever."

For its efforts the band does not go unrewarded. In the past three years, they have received first awards in Class A competition. Much of the credit must go to Mr. Brehm. In his seven years at KHS, he has organized a Junior Band which plays in Class B competition, and he has brought the Senior band from Class C to Class A with six first ratings. The excellence of the band and the capability of its director have established a fine reputation for the school and its music department.

The KHS "Pep" Band performed before a basketball game.

GAA's Year Featured

The GAA was more active than ever this year. The club was led by Debbie Schlosser, President, and the GAA advisor, Mrs. Borgan, KHS's new Phy. Ed. teacher, who gave the club new vitality. Some of the activities of the club included basketball games, volleyball tournaments, and badminton matches held during the noon hours. The girls also sponsored record dances after several of the home basketball games. The traditional mums were sold at homecoming time and GAA members also sold sweatshirts to students.

A new activity planned this year by the GAA was the Winter Carnival, held during the week of January 16 through 21. These winter activities started on Monday, January 16 with a hockey game between the Freshmen and Juniors in which the latter won through forfeit. The tabogganing which was planned was cancelled because of cold weather. Tuesday night brought roller-skating at the Artistic Roller Rink which proved to be an enjoyable evening. Wednesday's activity, girl's baseball on ice, was again cancelled because of frigid weather. The cold weather spell broke and on Thursday, ice skating races were held in which the Juniors won first and the Sophomores won second and third place. The court was presented at the North Fondy basketball game on Friday night. On Saturday, snow sculptures, designed by the classes were judged as follows: 1st, Freshmen with "Sphinx"; 2nd, Juniors with "The Lion"; and 3rd, Freshmen with "Cinderella". The week's activities were highlighted with a dance on Saturday night with music by the Gringos. On the basis of points earned, the Junior candidates on the court were crowned king and queen, for their class had received the most points. Even though bad weather had hampered some of the activities, the spirits were not dampened and it is hoped that next year the Winter Carnival will be bigger and better than ever.

In A Variety Of Musical Presentations

Until January 3rd of this year, chorus members were enjoying the daily trek to the grade school. However, after the completion of the new section of the school, chorus members found this enervating walk no longer necessary. At this time chorus members began singing with renewed vigor and joyous "Hallelujahs" were heard coming from the chorus room. Under the direction of Mr. Gerhartz, this organization has given several fine performances. These included their annual winter concert in December, and the Spring Concert in February. At these events group as well as individual talents were revealed. The winter concert provided an opportunity for members of the choral groups to excel individually as well as collectively. Judi Jaycox sang a solo, "O Holy Night" while the entire choir presented such selections as "On Christmas Night," "Alleluia," "When Jesus Left His Father's Throne," and "Two Weeks." The Freshman Glee Club presented such Christmas songs as "Christmas Bells," "The First Noel," and "I Saw Three Ships." Additional activities in which the choral groups participated included the music festival in Lomira, featuring individual competition in April and group competition in May. Chorus members visited the convent in Campbellsport in December and entertained the nuns with Christmas carols.

The term "chorus" actually describes two groups under the direction of Mr. Gerhartz. The A Cappella Choir meets during the fourth hour and the Freshman Glee Club meets during first hour. Freshmen who enjoy their year in the glee club may sign up for the A Cappella Choir in their sophomore year, and, if Mr. Gerhartz judges that the voice would be a contribution to the choir, they are accepted as members of this group.

Chorus, during this year as well as during past years, has provided opportunities for musically inclined members to display their talents and contribute to the school's musical program as well.

FBLA Enlarged Business Perspectives

The Future Business Leaders of Kewaskum face the future with eagerness and anticipation due to their experiences in the organization. The Future Business Leaders (FBLA) is a national club open to any high school student enrolled in any of the business courses, such as typing, shorthand, or office practice. The purpose of the organization is to instruct the students in the responsibilities and functions of business and to familiarize them with the business world through active club projects. The members of the organization also explore career opportunities as secretaries, stenographers, file clerks, and accountants. To carry out these goals and purposes the club had an interesting and full program for the year. It included such things as tours of local offices, guest speakers who are connected with the business world, discussions with former K.H.S. graduates now employed in local offices and individual work on the part of the members. The year was climaxed by a spring banquet in commemoration of National Secretaries' Week, at which time outstanding business students were recognized. The overall activity of the organization has encouraged many girls to look into the possibilities and enter the business world.

"Teachers are the Light of the World" was the motto guiding Kewaskums FTA. Juniors and seniors interested in pursuing a teaching career which attempted to make clear the advantages and disadvantages of the profession to its members. FTA sought to enable its members to acquire an understanding of the history of our public schools, their purposes and objectives, and their contributions to society. It also helped to inform the students of the qualities, traits, and aptitudes which are basic or related to successful teaching. Programs were planned to acquaint members with the demands and rewards of the profession. Don Bestland spoke on his career as a school psychologist at our November meeting, to which the entire faculty of KHS was invited. In January the film, "And Gladly Teach" was shown to members and in March the film, "The Hickory Stick." During the second semester Mr. Bade spoke to the members about the teaching profession. Don Bestland's advice, Mr. Bade's guidance, and the films prepared the members for the Teaching Day in April, which the members found very rewarding. During the year members gained further insight into the teaching profession.

The bulletin board was highlighted by an FTA display.

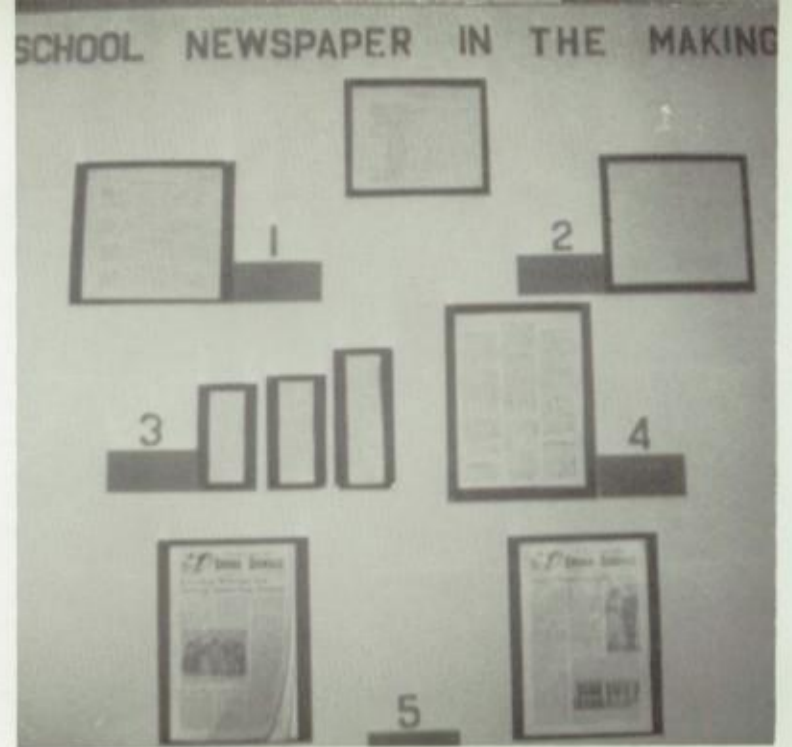

Mr. Don Bestland the school psychologist, spoke to the FTA about his career.

Senior editors prepared pages of the Smoke Signals for the printer.

The process of producing the school newspaper was depicted in a bulletin board display

"Aren't we getting the Smoke-Signals pretty soon?" was a familiar question at K.H.S. The monthly school newspaper proved to be one of the most popular elements of school life. Each edition contained a wide variety of items including editorials, sports statistics, and feature articles. The paper contained news of coming events and club reports as well as entertaining stories and jokes. Producing each monthly edition required a great amount of time and effort. About three weeks before the paper came out, there was a general staff meeting at which all the reporters, editors, and assistants received their assignments and deadlines. Each staff member was given two weeks to gather information and write up the article. He then gave it to one of the typists who in turn gave the article to the proof-reader. After all the articles were proofread, they were sent to the printer who typed them into print columns and sent them back. The next step in producing the newspaper involved the Editor, Karen Hansen, Assistant Editor, Kris Westerman, and Advisor, Mr. Rosenthal, plus any other persevering staff members. They had the job of arranging the articles in a logical order and finding appropriate fillers. The assembled sample was sent to the printer who printed approximately 600 copies. When the printed pages arrived at school, the staff faced their last job, that of assembling the pages and distributing the paper. While the students enjoyed their Smoke Signals, the staff was already preparing for the next edition.

Four basic qualities looked for in a candidate for National Honor Society are scholarship, leadership, character, and service. All juniors and seniors are eligible for membership in NHS. The faculty chooses those students whom they feel are worthy of this honor. Then final selection is made by a committee of five teachers on the basis of the four qualities. In February, the new members were announced to the entire student body at an assembly. The formal initiation followed a few weeks later. Monthly meetings were held by the club during the year, and with the help of the advisor, Mr. Bade, various activities of NHS were discussed and planned. At KHS'S Open House boys served as guides and girls distributed report cards to anxious parents. The tutoring of underclassmen who were having difficulty in particular subjects was one of the most gratifying projects undertaken by NHS. Freshmen and sophomores were helped in science, biology, general math, algebra, geometry, English and Spanish. Tutors met with their students either during study halls or after school, once a week.

Struggling students were reassured by the NHS members' interest in their success in school. These nineteen individuals represented the finest students of KHS. They were respected by their fellow students and therefore were required to set a good example for all to follow. In doing so, they display the four qualities on which their selection to NHS was based: scholarship, leadership, character and service.

"We Are The Future Homemakers of America"

New Horizons Beckoned Future Homemakers

"Toward New Horizons", the FHA motto, has been an inspiration to the girls in the National Future Homemakers of America for twenty-one years. It has also inspired the Future Homemakers at KHS. They have tried hard to fulfill its challenge. The members of FHA worked on their degrees, Junior, Chapter, State, diligently to aid their personal, family, and community development. There are State and National Projects which the FHA girls try to complete. This year the State goal was "Tap New Talents." The Kewaskum chapter attempted to meet this goal through its activities; FHA members were also involved in the National Project, "Neighbors Near and Far." In connection with this project they collected money for UNICEF, gathered canned goods, toys, and clothing for a needy family's Christmas, and sewed ditty bags to fill with Christmas gifts and sent to the soldiers in Vietnam. Other undertakings during the year were serving concessions at basketball and football games, decorating doors at Christmas time, and initiating new members. The FHA year was concluded with a Mother-Daughter banquet and fashion show, in which members modeled the garments they had made in Home Economics Class. The members not only enriched their own lives, but in living up to their motto "Toward New Horizons" enriched school and Community life as well.

Long hours, disappointment, laughter, and satisfaction were combined in creating a yearbook that would provide students at KHS with pleasant memories of the '66-'67 school year. Having juniors on the staff was the beginning of changes which took place this past year. The seniors were against this idea, but the juniors proved their usefulness to the staff. Changing the cover of the annual was the second change. Other changes were made throughout the annual including layouts and arrangements of the pages. At the end of the year, staff members found themselves reminiscing about the tasks that had been accomplished during the year. The arrangement and layout of the senior pictures and the senior directory were tasks the senior staff had to take care of. The underclassmen staff had a similar job. The literary staff was in charge of writing all the articles, captions, and headlines for everything, but the sports section in the annual. The layout editors and their staff were the ones who decided where the copy material, pictures, scores and headlines should be located on the page. Writing the sports articles, obtaining the correct scores, and organizing pictures and copy on the pages, were duties of the sports staff. To insure its financial backing, the Chieftain's advertising staff encouraged merchants in the area to purchase an ad and thereby support the annual.

Involved in the vital tasks of writing articles and organizing pictures on yearbook pages were Keith Weinand, Karen Hansen, and Mary Weddig.

"We're from Kewaskum, couldn't be prouder..."

Athletic Efforts Supported

"We're from Kewaskum, couldn't be prouder!" These words echoed at football and basketball games, and at track and wrestling meets. The loudest cheering was from the Pep Club section. The only requirements for membership in the Pep Club were that a student be a member of the Kewaskum student body and possess "school spirit." To a member of Pep Club, school spirit meant attending athletic events, cheering loudly and encouraging the athletic teams. Pep Club was responsible for planning pep rallies held before every home game. At these rallies, contests were held to promote class spirit. One was a yelling contest, won by the class of '68. Skits presented by each class were judged by a faculty delegation. Another activity of Pep Club this year was selling pennants to the student body. Artistically inclined members created eye-catching posters designed to urge the student body to attend games and support the athletes. For their support and enthusiasm throughout the year, Pep Club members were rewarded by being provided with free transportation to a basketball game. The hope of every Pep Club member during the year was that each cheer would inspire Kewaskum's athletes to victory.

It was the cheerleaders' task to lead Pep Club members in their cheering.

Later Successful Projects Of Student Council

Activity, diligence, and school spirit are the characteristics of any good student council member. Each one of this year's 20 members exemplified these characteristics. The year's first order of business was the election of officers. The council elected the secretary and the treasurer and nominated candidates for president and vice-president, who were later elected by the student body. The annual freshmen-get-together was the council's first project. Its goal was to better acquaint the new freshmen with their fellow classmates. The student council was also responsible for helping with Pep Rally preparations for the Homecoming and sponsored a spring "Clean-Up" campaign. Working with various school clubs, council members looked into the possibilities of having dances or other forms of recreation in the school gym. This year, after heated discussions, it was decided that a Costume ball would replace the traditional Sadie Hawkins' Dance. Student response was favorable as evidenced by the variety of costumes and the attendance. Live music was provided by R. J. and the Wellingtons. Reigning over the masqueraders were Lynn Woolman and Fred Jackson.

The main goal of the council during the year was to get students involved and interested in school activities and to urge them to voice their own opinions and ideas. To accomplish this, homerooms were held after each monthly meeting, during which representatives reported the latest council activities and encouraged student suggestions.

In order to make themselves more effective representatives, council members attended the WASC Conference in Madison and the Student Council Workshop in Stevens Point. Members attending the WASC Conference in October included Colleen Fickler, Judy Bade, Urai, Keith Weinand, and Mary Strobel. The workshop was attended by Jane Honeck and Kris Westerman in August. These state-wide gatherings provided members with much useful information. Throughout the year the council endeavored, through their activities, to bring the students and faculty closer together, and, at the same time, improve Kewaskum High School.

In November, the new library looked far from complete.

Library Club helps students who are interested in library work to learn the jobs and techniques that librarians use in their daily work. Some of these jobs are learning to keep bookshelves in order, to check books in and out, and to cover and repair books. To be a member of the Library Club there is only one requirement--to obey the standards set by the Library Constitution. The Library Club planned three major activities during the school year. In the fall, selected members attend a convention in Oshkosh where students learned different fundamentals of librarian work. They also were given ideas on how to encourage students to read more and how to influence the students to use the library facilities correctly. An annual trip to a well-established library in Wisconsin showed the members what hard work could accomplish. The Library Club sponsored a Book Fair at which students could choose from a wide variety of paper-back books. The Library Club provided its members with the satisfaction that resulted from contributing to the efficiency of the library. In addition they made possible the effective utilization of the library's facilities by the student body.

AFS Fostered Exchange Of Ideas.

"Hi Urai!" The bright smile and friendly face of Urai Kornwithtaslip, foreign exchange student from Thailand, prompted this greeting and a cheerful "Hi" answered it. Urai is the sixth foreign exchange student to study in Kewaskum High School. The school's AFS chapter has raised money each year so that a student from abroad could visit Kewaskum and so that students from Kewaskum could live in other countries. An annual Chili Supper is the primary method of raising money for this purpose. A great deal of planning and effort contributed to the success of this year's Chili Supper, held on November 2. The first plans were made at meetings early in October when committees were chosen and suggestions were made. As a result of members' efforts and the community's support, the event was a success. After the supper, the one-act contest play, "The Romantics," provided fine entertainment for the audience. The evening was climaxed by a dance with music supplied by "The Accidentals."

AFS members were involved in other activities during the year which were intended to promote friendship and good will among nations of the world. AFS endeavors to provide visitors from other countries with an understanding of our country's policies and intentions. The members of Kewaskum's chapter of AFS worked diligently throughout the year to create this atmosphere of friendship and good will for Urai, and other foreign exchange students with whom their activities brought them in contact.

Study Of Spanish Language And Customs Rewarded Members

"Adelante, siempre adelante!" "Forward, always forward!" That is the motto of the Spanish Club. This motto expresses the basic goal in Spanish Club: to be enriched culturally by learning more about the people and their customs, to gain an understanding of Spanish-speaking countries, to practice speaking Spanish, and to share ideas in an atmosphere of friendship. A major project of the year was writing a new constitution. The officers and advisor, Miss Weeks, worked many hours on it for the benefit of club members. Another project was the St. Patrick's Day Dance sponsored by the club for the entire student body. Members were also involved in "El Carnival", a festival which is similar to the Mardi Gras and which is celebrated by the Spanish people every year. At the Spanish Club's version of this celebration, new members, who had been students of Spanish for at least one semester, were initiated and the advanced students put on Spanish skits for the entertainment of the new members. Monthly meetings during the year featured guest speakers, Spanish records or Spanish films. "Los Amigos Espanoles" enjoyed a prosperous and happy year.

Keith Weinand presided over a monthly meeting at which plans for the initiation of new members were discussed.

Discovery Was The Purpose Of Science Club

This past year science students at KHS benefited in a great many ways. First of all, the addition gave them an up-to-date laboratory, used by all science, chemistry and physics students. In their experimenting, students also benefited by the use of newly arrived apparatus and equipment. A third way was in the formation of a science club, under the direction of Mr. Stenberg. A main objective of the newly formed club was that each of its members made a project. These included the growing of crystals, production of cosmetics, diagramming the periodic chart in new ways, and the construction of atomic molecular models. Through experimentation and observation young minds were set to work understanding and explaining the mysteries of science.

A crystal-growing apparatus was Dave Milewski's project.

Under head coach, Roman Gill, Kewaskum's baseball team, in its first year of summer baseball, experienced a rather disappointing season. The team got off to a slow start, but finished strong, playing a fine game at Campbellsport and defeating North Fondy and a tough Random Lake squad. In addition, the Indians turned in fine performances in tournament play, besting Slinger in the first game, thereby advancing themselves to the Regional Finals. In a hard-fought battle, the Indians suffered defeat at the hands of state runner-up, West Bend. Individual standouts throughout the campaign included Joe Fehlhaber, whose fine .450 batting average was tops on the team, and Mark Heise and Jerry Marx, who shared mound duties during most of the season and supplied power to the line-up as well. Losing only two of its starting nine, the team is looking forward to a more successful season in 1967.

Strong Comeback

Kewaskum had one of its finest seasons in many years this fall, finishing with a 3-5 overall record while placing fourth in conference standings. The team's victories included a 28-20 win over Slinger, a thrilling 19-13 upset of previously undefeated North Fondy, and an impressive 18-13 homecoming victory over Germantown. Several good scoring opportunities were spoiled by fumbles or interceptions or the Indians may have tallied a few more victories. The squad, under the able coaching of Mr. Harlow and his assistants, Mr. Stenberg and Mr. Wuebben, contained several underclassmen but was made up mostly of veteran seniors.

Three of these seniors were selected for All-Conference honors at their respective positions. Mark Heise was chosen as an offensive end. He led the league in a number of receptions and was eighth in conference scoring. He was also selected as Kewaskum's most valuable player by his teammates. Mark Schaefer was chosen at center on the offensive unit. He supplied the straight ahead power on numerous quarterback sneaks and also handled the team's place-kicking duties. Jerry Marx was chosen as defensive halfback. He intercepted seven passes and also received honorable mention as an offensive back. He was chosen as the Indian's honorary captain for the year. Besides these three, several others received honorable mention for their efforts. They were Bill Backhaus at quarterback, Jim Korth at fullback, Curtis Erdmann at guard, and Jim Manthei at linebacker. The efforts of these individuals combined with that of the rest of the team, which also performed very well throughout the season, made possible one of Kewaskum's most successful seasons in recent years.

The Junior Varsity, under Coach DeNamur, came up against some very stiff competition and although they fought hard their efforts were not always rewarded in the form of a win. They finished the season with a 1-3-2 record. Individuals who turned in fine performances throughout the season were Perry Koth at quarterback, Chuck Thuesch and Jerry Engeleiter as running backs, Chuck Muckerheide at end, and John Mannon at guard. Mike Gutjar started the season as the team's fullback, but was later moved up to the varsity where he also made a fine showing.

Indian's defense prepared for a tackle.

Coach Harlow watched over a practice session.

Jerry Marx was stopped after a kick-off return in the Germantown game.

John LaMarche broke into the open to catch Bill Backhaus' pass against Campbellspport.

Harriers Turned In Surprising

Kewaskum High School's varsity Cross Country team completed a fairly successful season this year, considering the fact that only one man of last year's seven starting runners returned. Three other lettermen also returned and along with some ambitious runners from last year's fine JV squad, the team finished with a 23-23 record. Coach Sleger's harriers competed in a total of seven meets during the regular season. These meets consisted mostly of double duals and triangulars. In addition, the Indians ran in the Blackhawk Invitational at Grafton, the Homestead Invitational, the Sectional meet and the conference meet. In the Blackhawk Invitational, the Indians finished seventh out of a field of eleven area schools, and in the Homestead Invitational, they ended up eighth out of nine competing schools. The harriers traveled to Ripon for this year's Sectional meet and made a fine showing, finishing fourth among fifteen schools. The conference meet was held at Kewaskum's home course, located at Hon-E-Kor Country Club. The Indians turned in their best performance of the season here and wound up second only to newly crowned conference champion, Germantown. Individual standouts on this year's varsity squad were seniors, Paul Reindl and Bill Weddig, juniors, Glen Klug and Ken Zehren, sophomores, Ray Gruber and Bob Wilson, and freshman, Larry Zehren, Paul led the Indians to their fine performance at the Sectionals and Glen and Ray came in first for the team on several occasions. Brothers Ken and Larry joined the team about midway through the season and Ken led the harriers to their second place finish in the conference meet. The team showed much potential for the future as did the Junior Varsity team. The JV's compiled an exceptional 20-6 record which included a second place finish in the Blackhawk Invitational and a fourth place in the Homestead Invitational. In their conference meet, the JV's literally ran away with the championship, taking five of the first six places. JV standouts were Dave Milewski, Lee Rammer, and Gary Ramthun.

Kewaskum's basketball team under head coach, Lindley DeNamur had a somewhat disappointing season this year, finishing 5th in Scenic Moraine standings. The Indians posted a 5 win, 9 loss record in conference play. Exciting wins were, however, achieved over Random Lake as Kewaskum took both ends of a home-home series, winning at Random Lake 68-66 in overtime and nipping the Rams, 60-58 at home. The improvement of the team was evident in the team's three encounters with Campbellsport. In the first game against this team, the Indians lost by three points; in the second game, the Indians came back to beat them by five; finally, in tournament competition, the Indians whipped Campbellsport by 27 points. The Indians played several good games during the season, but were hurt by cold shooting and fouls, causing the loss of key players. Mechanical errors or turnovers also spoiled scoring opportunities many times. Though the Indians had a comparative lack of height, they did clear the boards with outstanding success.

Although their record didn't reveal it, the Indians had a highly potent attack including team members Bill Backhaus, Mike Miller, and Jim Schuster. Backhaus led the team in scoring with a 21 per game average, good for 3rd place in conference scoring. With his 853 points overall, he became the most prolific scorer in the history of Kewaskum High School. Miller was the Indians 2nd leading scorer and leading rebounder. The only returning starter for next year is junior, Jim Schuster, who finished 3rd in scoring and 2nd in rebounding for the Indians. This included a stellar performance against Campbellsport in which he tallied 21 points and grabbed 20 rebounds, both career highs for Schuster. Other players who started throughout the year were senior guards, Joe Fehlhaber, and Jerry Marx, senior forwards, John LaMarche and Dick Marx. Returning members of this year's team will be Jim Manthei, Al Bohn, Fred Kreiser, Marv Tanck and George Martin. Next year, it appears will be a rebuilding year as the JV's also had a disappointing season this year, winning 4 while dropping 10 in conference play under Coach Daniel Laffe. The top scorers for the JV's were Perry Koth and Jerry Engeleiter. Coach Zemlicka's freshmen team had a very good season this year. The freshmen posted a 9-3 win-loss record and many of their victories were by rather lopsided scores. Several of the team's members saw action on the junior varsity team. These players included Ron Theusch, Randy Koth, Tony Butschlick, Jim Tessar, and Leon Schultz.

Ability And Dedication Characterized Lettermen

What is the magnetic quality that attracts the girls to the Letterman? Is it the muscular build, the medals and awards worn on their jackets or sweaters, or is it simply their wide interest in school activities? Maybe it is the pleasant personality that all Lettermen possess. A Letterman, a major letter winner and also in good standing with the school, helps promote a high standard of athletics and is of service to the school. During the year the Lettermen engage in activities such as car washes and candy sales.

One of the highlights of this year was the acquisition of a movie camera. Films of the games were used by the Lettermen in planning future strategy. It is hoped by the Lettermen that this would help all future athletes at Kewaskum High School. They also hoped that the characteristic high spirits and "go-get-em" attitude of the Lettermen would be perpetuated in the club's future members.

Letterman Perry Koth sold candy to Bonnie Kern.

Grapplers Finished Second In

Kewaskum entered its second season of interscholastic wrestling this year and finished with an excellent 12-4 record in dual meet competition. They also participated in the Watertown Invitational and the Mayville Invitational and hosted their own triple dual meet. Their victories included several over teams from much larger schools. In conference competition, the Indians were undefeated until they traveled to Germantown for the conference meet. Here they suffered a heartbreaking loss to Germantown, finishing second, just three points behind the winners.

Three Kewaskum grapplers, however, were crowned conference champions, five more finished second, and one finished third. Second place finishers were Tom Schmidt, who also placed second at the Mayville Invitational at 95 lbs., Ray Gruber at 112 lbs., Mark Heise at 145 lbs., Tom Gundrum at 180 lbs., and Mark Schaefer in the Heavy-weight division. Marv Ebert finished third in the 138 lb. class. Leo Gundrum, a freshman, won the 120 lb. title in his first year of competition. Paul Reindl, a senior, won the 133 lb. title, and placed 2nd in the Mayville Invitational. He also placed 2nd in the regional finals, but was then eliminated in the sectional tournament. Niles Erickson, another senior, finished the season with a sparkling 26-2 record. He was conference champion at 165 lbs., as well as 165 lb. champ at the Mayville Invitational. In tournament competition, he won the regional and sectional title to become the only Scenic Moraine Conference wrestler to participate in the state tournament.

The Junior Varsity wrestlers also had a very good season. They posted a 8-6 dual meet mark and also participated in the Watertown Invitational. In a few instances, J.V.'s were called on to fill in for varsity men and many came through with victories. JV wrestlers who showed promise for the future included Chuck Muckerheide, Bill Butz, John Bonlender, and Joe and John Reindl.

Individual effort can hardly be mentioned without recognizing the tireless efforts of Coach Harlow who was assisted by Mr. Stenberg. Kewaskum High School congratulates Coach Harlow and his wrestlers for the fine job they did of representing our school throughout the season.

Paul Reindl, Niles Erickson and Leo Gundrum each won conference championships in their weight classes.

"Indians are ya' with us?" Varsity and "B" team cheerleaders drew school spirit from each and every football and basketball fan, with this and many other new cheers. Any team knows that without support from its fans no game is worth winning. That's why the cheerleaders job is so important to the success of the team. However, cheerleading is more than just standing in front of the student body and "sounding off". Besides a loud voice, pep, and agility, cheerleading requires many hours of work, not only on the cheers, but on the various projects the cheerleaders undertake. Projects included the sale of game and bus tickets, making of shakers, posters, and banners, and often times helping to organize pep rallies. The end result, seen at games was the product of many hours of practice and drill. K.H.S. was proud of its girls in green and their contribution to school spirit and school life. So "Let the cries of victory ring, all for Kewaskum stand up and sing".

Our Task Is Now Completed . . .

Ten months ago when we became the editors of the 1967 Chieftain, just how we were to accomplish the task before us was not clear. But by the time the last page of the final deadline had been sent to the publishers, we found it difficult to accept the fact that our Chieftain had been completed.

Late last summer we began our work, with a haunting feeling of ignorance. Staring us in the face was an enormous mass of blank layout paper, sharp pencils, an empty ladder and the all-too-soon-arriving deadline dates. But with a novel eagerness and dedication, the page by page layout of the yearbook (which was changed innumerable times) was soon planned, and those blank sheets were filled, slowly and steadily, with meanings and symbols in the forms of articles, scores, and pictures. Those sharp pencils are now little stubs.

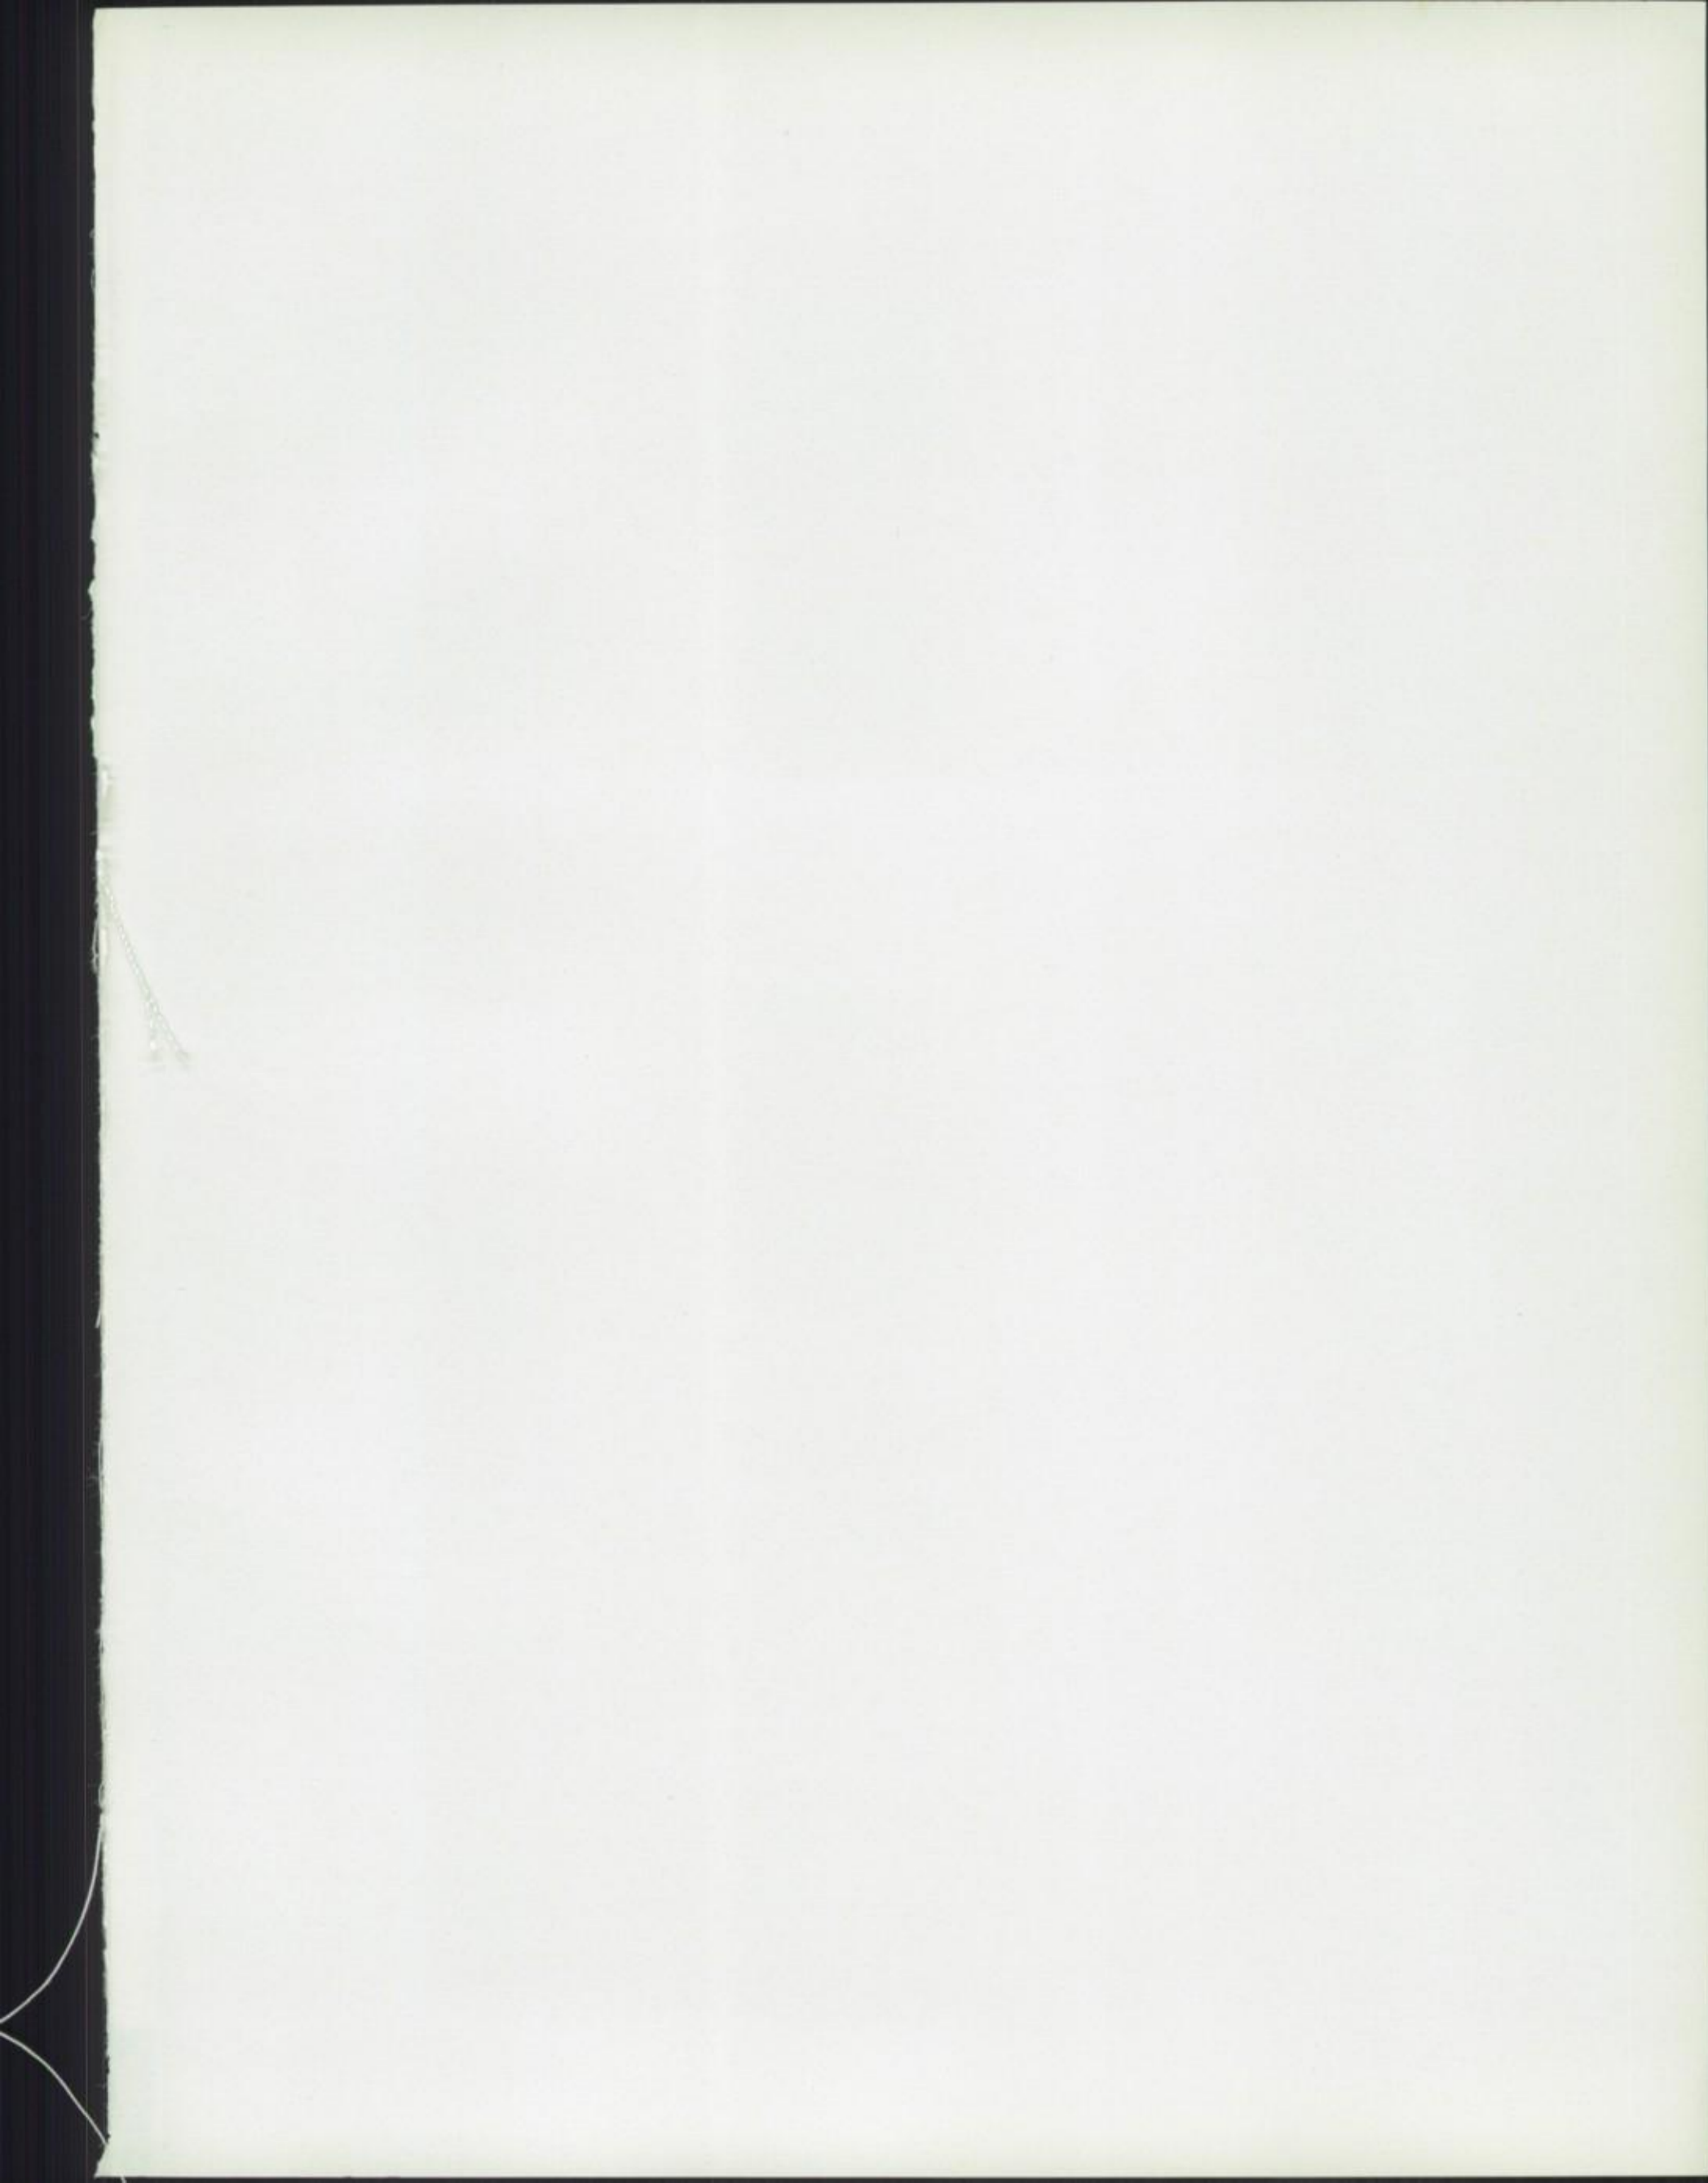

We will always remember the arguments we had, the deadlines we missed, and the problems late copy and inadequate pictures posed for us. But we will also remember the loyalty a staff member had for the book--the reason he came to meetings and did his utmost to help; the long sometimes frustrating, but greatly rewarding hours we put into it; and the everlasting friendships that developed during those months through discussing and planning the annual.

The Chieftain is not our book alone. It is the combined effort of those who contributed just one thought or idea to it. And that is what we hope to have portrayed in the 1967 Chieftain--a composite view of life at Kewaskum High School.

Graduation

Marked End Of

Year's Events

The members of the class of '67 had long awaited Thursday, June first. This was their day, the day a senior would reflect on the hopes and disappointments, the accomplishments and failures, and the joys and sorrows he had over the past four years.

Thursday evening the processional slowly brought the graduates together, symbolizing the beginning of an end. The seniors, glancing about at their classmates and perhaps seeing them for the last time, reminisced about the experiences and activities they had shared, the ties of friendship that had increased each year the many memorable moments—working on homecoming floats, creating our prom, voting for class and club officers, writing term papers, and most of all sharing laughter with friends.

After each member of the class had been called forward to receive his diploma and he had officially left the doors of K. H. S. behind, he realized this was the end of a beginning... and the beginning of a future full of dreams and hopes.

Marie Butschlik and Mary Jane Bales enjoyed the Brookfield Zoo.

The Prudential Building afforded an excellent view of the city.

Trip And Banquet Concluded Seniors' Activities

Bringing four years to an end for seniors were two events that were long awaited by these students. On May 12th the senior class trip took seniors to Chicago to view some of the points of interest that Chicago has to offer. Included in these sights were the Prudential Building, the Museum of Science and Industry, the Brookfield Zoo, and O'Hare Field. Then on May 16th the senior banquet was held. Guests were welcomed by Sandra Jackson, class president, and the festivities were enlivened by Neal Hirsig as the genial master of ceremonies. The class history was read by Ruth Hafemann, Janet Lettow and Kathy Meyer; the class poem by Chris Heberer, Kris Westerman, and Wayne Tolonen; the class prophecy by Richard Thiemer, Ronald Krell, Keith Hron and Neal Hirsig; and the class will by Dale Darmody, Sue Bales, and Jim Gutjahr. Principal Ernest Mitchell presented the major address of the evening. The singing of the class song brought the program to a close. Two eagerly anticipated were over and this brought the seniors closer to the final event in their four years of high school--graduation.

The Senior Banquet was a memorable event for the prospective graduates.

Jane Hiller and Mark Heise were two of the seniors who were entertained at the Senior Banquet.

Mr. Mitchell prepared to address the seniors.

"...Till We Meet Again."

Mr. Boyd, Mr. Mitchell, June, 1967, faculty members, and all my friends:

I realize that this is my farewell message and it might be the last time that I see some of you because my AFS year is over. Whenever I think of my approaching departure, it always saddens me. I look at all of you with my heart full of sorrow, I take a deep breath with all of you in this auditorium of our beloved high school because I don't think I will be able to come back again to have this moment with all of you who are present here.

Well, I don't intend to waste these precious moments or to change them to be sad ones and no one would like it anyway. I recall my year, my most wonderful and most exciting year. I admit that at first I didn't like anything at all. I had thought that Kewaskum was a rather small community but now I'm admitting that Kewaskum is the best because of every reason. And the most important reason is because of the people of Kewaskum, all my schoolmates and my teachers who not just made my year possible but even contributed to it to be the happiest, the greatest and the most wonderful for me. I surely enjoyed them so much, but at the same time I'm afraid I haven't done my AFS job well enough. I can only say "Thank you all so much." Special thanks to the faculty who gave me of their knowledge which will be important through all my life.

To all the seniors, also may you too have my special thanks. I really had so much fun with you through the whole year. There are so many experiences that impressed me and I will never fail to come to Kewaskum to see you all. I'm sure when I return home I'll be thinking of everyone and I'll miss so many things. I'll remember you forever and ever.

Finally, I'd like to wish you all my Four Thai Blessings; Healthy, Happy, Wealthy, and Long Life always.

Till we meet again,
Urai

Urai joyfully opened her birthday gifts.

Urai became familiar with American customs and pastimes. Here she developed her skill at ping-pong.

Urai's adopted family, the Koerbles, helped her to feel at home in America. Here Sue and Tom leave for school with Urai.

Sue's crowning was the main event of the evening.

The evening of May 6, 1967, proved to be one of the most successful prom evenings in the history of K.H.S. "Al-di-la," presented by the class of '68, provided an Italian mood for those who attended. A village consisting of a barber shop, a baker shop, a glassware shop, a flower shop, and a sidewalk cafe added to the Italian atmosphere. A Venetian canal scene, complete with gondola, covered the west wall. A garden area, including a small fountain, wrought iron furniture, and a marble statue, was a beautiful spot to rest and to take pictures. The members of the court entered the gym through flower covered garden arches. The highlight of the decorations, a huge, flowing fountain in the center of the gym, was an attempt to recreate one of Italy's picturesque fountains. Those who attended will long remember "Al-di-la."

Soon after the beginning of the second semester, several students from the junior and senior classes were selected by the faculty committee to be members of the National Honor Society. At an all-school assembly, new members of NHS were introduced to the school. Chosen on the basis of leadership, scholarship, service, and character, these students were recognized as the school's outstanding students and joined the ranks of those members already selected for this honor. On February 14th, a formal induction was held to receive these new members into the select organization. The program consisted of an appropriate and meaningful message from School Board President, Richard Edwards, and speeches by NHS officers and select members explaining the qualifications, symbols and ideals of the National Honor Society. Mr. Boyd, Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Bade, the organization's advisor, also said a few words on behalf of the organization. After the presentation of membership cards by Mr. Bade and congratulations by Mr. Mitchell, the new members formally became part of the society. Following the program, an informal reception was held in the cafeteria for the members and their parents and friends. With the promising leadership of these new junior members of the society, KHS will continue to uphold its fine traditions.

Four KHS students attended the Governor's Youth Conference held from March 31st to April 1st. Delegates included: Debbie Schlosser, sponsored by the local union; George Martin, sponsored by the Red Cross; Mary Strobel, sponsored by the Women's Club; and Kris Westerman, sponsored by the Democratic Party of Washington County. These delegates to the conference attended lectures on the role of youth in the future and the behavior of the youth in his daily life. Lectures were also presented on the following topics: home and family, education, and society. Delegates found participation in the conference educational and stimulating.

Students Designed To Governmental

June 10th through the 17th was Badger State week for Bonnie Kern, George Martin, Jim Butz, Paul Redig, and hundreds of other outstanding students from high school junior classes throughout Wisconsin. Badger State delegates set up a mock-government including the election of city, county, and state officials who conducted the business appropriate to their positions, very much like our actual city, county, and state officials. There were a flurry of campaigns, complete with posters, buttons, banners and speeches, as citizens of Badgers State competed for numerous offices on each of the three governing levels. Since these are all top students, competition was stiff, increasingly so as one climbed to the next higher level of government.

The American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, who sponsor Badger State, spent a great deal of time and money planning this event-packed week. There were, during this week, numerous speeches and lectures by noted authorities and state officials. At Badger Girls' State, which was held in Madison, plans included tours to the Capitol and the Dane County Court House. Delegates were given opportunities to display their talents in music, dancing and comedy. Careful planning resulted in a great deal of excitement, and increased understanding of government affairs and functions, and, of course, a great deal of fun, planned and spontaneous. It was an experience a delegate could not soon forget.

Participated In Activities Acquaint Them With Tasks

Students who are interested in the basic fundamentals of the county's government are given an opportunity each year to participate in a program designed for this purpose. On Wednesday, April 19, eleven students from Kewaskum High School accompanied by Mr. Buswell attended County Day at the West Bend Court House. Students from West Bend, Hartford, Slinger and Germantown also attended.

County Day participants were determined by preliminary elections that were held by ballot voting. The student body was divided into Nationalist and Federalist parties. On the basis of these divisions, nomination papers were filed and preliminary voting took place; the final election determined whether the Nationalist or Federalist candidate would attend the program. Those who participated were the following: County Clerk-Dave Milewski; Register of Deeds-Nancy Bullette; Sheriff-James Manthei; District Attorney-Gerald Engeleiter; County Treasurer-George Martin; Clerk of Courts-Debra Rumsey; Juvenile Officer-Joan Schoofs; County Board Member-John La Marche; Judges-Urai, Joe Peters, and Jeff Reigle.

The participants in County Day activities were welcomed by attorney Henry Renard. They toured the various branch court rooms, inspected jail facilities, listened to and visited with some of the county officials and participated in a mock trial presented by local attorneys and businessmen.

Although it was the first year for many students participating in forensics, it proved to be a successful and rewarding year. Members learned to overcome stage fright, to acquire poise and to face an audience with self-confidence. Students in forensics spent many hours rehearsing with forensic coaches and many hours practicing at home to insure their success. March 11th was the date of the forensics district meet at Germantown. Kewaskum's representation was glad to tie Slinger for second place. Each participant received two grades, one from each of two judges. In order to qualify to attend the meet in Oshkosh, an "A" and a "B" rating or two "A" ratings were required of a participant. Twelve KHS students qualified for the meet at Oshkosh. They included the following students: Neal Hirsig, Les Kaschner, Marilyn Reindl, Mike Smith, Bonnie Kern, Linda Wulff, Debbie Schlosser, Jane Honeck, Diane Kaschner, Kathy Hansen, and George Martin. The April 8th meet at Oshkosh proved to be very rewarding for six members of the team. They were given the opportunity, because of their superior performances, to compete in the state forensics meet in Madison. Those who attended the state meet on April 29th were Marilyn Reindl, Les Kaschner, Mike Smith, ("Glass Menagerie"-play acting group), Linda Wulff, ("The American Apathy"-Original Oratory), Anne Edwards ("Daddies Anonymous"-4 minute speech), Neal Hirsig, ("The Man Who Knew Coolidge"-Interpretive Reading of Prose). At the state meet, Neal Hirsig and Anne Edwards received "A" ratings, the highest award given.

Talented Students Competed In State Contests

Even though the band worked hard throughout the entire year, the busiest and most anticipated time is in the spring when most of the band's activities really start. The first spring activity is the District Solo and Ensemble Contest, this year held at Lomira on April 22nd. Kewaskum was well-represented, the members returning with an impressive record of 65 first division awards in Class A. These people then qualified to go on to the State Contest in Oshkosh on May 6th where two groups and one soloists achieved first ratings. These students were Jane Honeck, Judy Bade, Cindy Wertz, Kathy Dorn, -Flute Quintet; Jane Honeck, Judy Bade, -Flute Duet; and Marie Butschlik, -Clarinet Solo.

The band's next activity was the Music Festival at Lomira on May 12. Kewaskum's band went into the contest with six first division ratings, three of which were in Class A. For the fourth consecutive year, the band and Mr. Brehm achieved a 1st in Class A, an impressive record for a band in a high school of Kewaskum's size. In addition to these honors, Kewaskum's band has always received acclaim for its performances, and it can easily be said that Kewaskum's band is one of the better bands in the state.

Kathy Dorn

Jane Honeck

Jean Schaefer, Barb Schmidt and Betty Butz had roles in the comedy.

The three-act spring play was entitled "Harvey". Who was Harvey? Why Harvey was a big, six-foot, six-inch invisible rabbit who appeared only to people he liked, and who claimed Elwood P. Dowd as his best friend. The trouble was Elwood seemed to be the only one who could see this rabbit. The havoc occurred when Elwood began introducing his invisible friend to his sister Veta's guests and she decided to "do something she'd never done before." Veta decides to have her brother committed to a mental institution. Instead, Veta, however, is mistakenly committed to the institution. At the end of the play, after much confusion, Veta decides that she is satisfied with her brother, and Harvey, Elwood and Veta live happily ever after.

Audience Entertained By Presentation Of "Harvey"

Lana Harbeck portrayed Veta and Neal Hirsig was her brother, Elwood P. Dowd.

Steve Schaefer, a taxi-cab driver, and Neal Hirsig shook hands at the play's conclusion.

Team's Efforts Resulted In

Kewaskum's 1967 track team, bolstered by several returning record-holders, had a very successful season. In triangular competition, they took two firsts and three seconds and won their only dual meet. They also competed in the Blackhawk Invitational at Grafton and in the Conference meet held at Germantown. They suffered rather disappointing finishes at both of these meets, however, coming in 6th at Grafton and 5th at Germantown.

Several individuals distinguished themselves this year as many new school records were set. John Petermann bettered the high jump mark to 5'9 5/8" and Niles Erickson broke the shot put record with a heave of 40'9". Mike Miller eclipsed his own record in the 100 yd. dash with a time of 10.2 seconds, and he also set a new long jump record at 19'11 1/2". Mark Heise also broke his own record, touring the 220 yd. dash in 21.9 seconds. In addition to these, the 100 yd. relay team, consisting of Miller, Heise, Jerry Marx, and Dave Bingen, set a new mark of 1:35.8 in that event.

Kewaskum's JV's had an excellent season, posting four firsts and a second in triangular competition as well as winning their only dual. The efforts of these teams and their coaches, Mr. Sleger and Mr. Bade, contributed to the teams' fine performances.

Bob Wilson and Mike Miller each put forth a mighty effort to win.

Pole-vaulting required skill.

Was High Point Of Golf Season

TEAM RESULTS

Kewaskum's golf team, coached by Mr. Harlow, sported a mediocre 5-6 record but placed 8th out of 14 schools in the state sectionals. The 8th place at state was won with a 384 stroke total on a difficult West Bend Country Club course and was the highlight of the Indian season.

The Indians had some frustrating matches, losing to Slinger twice, once by a margin of 2 strokes and again by 5, and placing third in the conference meet, a single stroke behind Slinger and only six behind the winner, Grafton.

One high spot for the Indians besides the fine showing at West Bend was a score of 182 at Hon-E-Kor which broke the school record of 184. Stand-outs for Kewaskum included Bill Backhaus, a graduating senior, and George Martin, a junior. These two golfers fought for the #1 spot on the team throughout the season. Others who helped the team considerably were John LaMarche, Perry Koth, and Jim Tessar. The Indians look forward to a better season next year with four returning letterman.
